

SAYS ELECTION AT CHILOQUIN WAS NOT FAIR

Illegality in the conduct of last Saturday's school district election at Chilquin is charged by R. C. Spink, who is here today to see an attorney in endeavor to contest and set aside the election, which resulted in the choice of the east side for the new school by a vote of 28 to 25.

Mr. Spink says west side supporters are very indignant and he charges that George Strowbridge, owner of the east side site, Charles J. Ferguson, his attorney, and Miss Twyla Head, school superintendent colluded to keep a general vote from being taken.

He says that no notices of election were posted; that not until the morning of election day was it known to the school board that an election would be held, and that the polls were not opened until 10 o'clock at night after many voters had departed.

A meeting had been called for Saturday but it was the general opinion that it was called to discuss the school building and arrange for election. Up to the morning of election says Mr. Spink, it was maintained by Mr. Hedrick, one of the school board, that it was merely a meeting, not an election. At 11 o'clock he says the school superintendent telephoned the directors and told them to go ahead with the election. Mr. Spink had previously been informed by Miss Head, however, that the election would be held that day.

As a result says Mr. Spink, the Modoc Lumber company's employees, which furnish 85 per cent of the school attendance, had not a voter on the ground. They, because of geographical location, are west side supporters.

The west side site was offered by Abraham Charlie and the east side by George Strowbridge, both as gifts. Each is developing townsites lots and desire the school in their respective neighborhoods as an attraction to home seekers.

While Mr. Spink is sales agent for the west side lots he says his personal feelings are not animating him in his protest, but that he believes that the methods of the election were unfair to all the residents of the district.

PERMITS SHEEP TO CROSS LINE

Secretary Carnahan of the Klamath Wool Growers Association, is in receipt of information from State Veterinarian, W. H. Lytle, at Salem, that after a conference with Dr. J. C. Exline, he had decided to recommend to the board of sheep commissioners that order No. 37 be amended so as to provide for the passing of sheep from Shastiyou and Modoc counties, California, into Oregon after federal inspection shows the sheep to be free from scabies and known possible exposure.

The reply also urges the association members to report all cases where sheep have been exposed to infection to state headquarters at once.

Sheep already passed across the border, which are now in the vicinity of Horsefly Valley, will not be dipped unless it is proved that they have been in infected districts. The order will not become active until it is sent to the State Livestock Sanitary Board for approval.

Big Falling Off In Lumber Output

The Weekly Lumber Review of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association for the week ending May 21st, shows that one hundred and sixteen mills in western Oregon and western Washington report production at 56,813,336 feet, which is twenty-eight per cent below normal.

COPCOS TAKE SAGE

HENS INTO CAMP

The California-Oregon Power company baseball team journeyed to Dorris Sunday, May 29th, and took the Dorris baseball team into camp by a score of 10 to 8.

The game was a hard-fought battle from start to finish. A good-sized crowd attended the game, quite a number going to Dorris from Klamath Falls.
